We are thrilled to extend a cordial invitation to the Inaugural International Digital Dentistry Congress (IDDCON 2025), scheduled for August 2-3, 2025, and proudly co-organized by Medskill and the National Health Academy. This pioneering congress aims to serve as a global platform for advancing innovation, research, and clinical practice in the dynamic field of digital dentistry.

IDDCON 2025 will bring together over 25 distinguished international experts, renowned researchers, and accomplished clinicians to explore cutting-edge developments in digital dental technologies. The event will cover key specialties, including prosthodontics, orthodontics, oral and maxillofacial radiology, periodontics, endodontics, and implantology, fostering interdisciplinary collaboration and knowledge exchange.

This congress offers a unique opportunity for clinicians, academicians, postgraduate scholars, and digital health innovators to engage with the latest tools, techniques, and research shaping the future of oral healthcare. Your participation will enrich the discourse and contribute to the shared mission of transforming global dental care through digital innovation.

We eagerly anticipate your presence and contributions at IDDCON 2025. Join us in this landmark academic endeavor to drive progress in digital dentistry.
